Here For It - Attendance Campaign Tip of the Week

Learning is most meaningful when it is active, social, and allows students to apply concepts to real life situations. Showing up to school regularly helps students engage in learning that builds proficiency in reading and math that will help them to graduate from high school.

Daily attendance in school creates an environment conducive to learning and offers students the opportunity to build proficiency through consistent exposure.

Parents can support their child's on-time daily attendance by establishing a routine, preparing the night before, encouraging healthy habits, and setting a good example by fostering a positive attitude toward school. Showing interest in their academic progress, attending parent-teacher conferences and celebrating their achievements big & small can all contribute to that healthy environment where daily attendance matters.

End of Marking Period 1

The end of the first marking period is fast approaching and will end three weeks from today on Friday, November 2, 2023. Please check your student's attendance (FOCUS) and grades (Schoology). Parents should use the teacher contact information on each Schoology class page to schedule Parent/Teacher conferences.

Seniors are encouraged to attend the 7th Annual BCPS Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) College Fair on October 14 from 10 AM - 2 PM at New Town High School. Other high school students and families are also welcome.

Testing Reminders

- Students MUST use a BCPS Device during any major eLearning & district-wide testing activities.
- If you are testing at your home school, be sure to inform your Homeroom and Period teachers.
- Attend daily Revisit sessions during lunch to receive extra support from your teacher when preparing for tests and other assessments.
